Executive Director

Jacquelyn Kleinedler, MFT, LADC

Greetings Infant and Early Childhood Mental Health Professionals. I am so excited to step into the stream of infant and early childhood mental health with you. I earned my bachelor degree at the University of Michigan and then moved to Northern Nevada, where I have now lived for 24 years. I earned a Master's degree from University of Nevada, Reno and am a licensed therapist. I worked for The Children's Cabinet for twenty years in the realm of advocacy, system development and improvement, and some direct practice focused on adolescent and family behavioral health. I am committed to improving the communities where Nevada families live and work to assure equitable and compassionate access to all kinds of care. I am excited to be part of Infant and Early Childhood Mental Health!

Infant Mental Health Endorsement® is coming to Nevada!

The Nevada Leadership Cohort has been busy paving the way for other infant mental health professionals to apply to begin the IMH Endorsement® process.
